My 84-year-old mother has Alzheimer's disease [and lives] independently in an over 55's retirement village interstate.

One day, Mum didn't answer my call, and the videophone went to automatic opening just as she was coming into view. I could see she looked very unwell and was in obvious need of an ambulance.

The videophone allowed me to use my nursing skills to assess my Mum... Due to her age and heart problems, I believe Mum was potentially heading towards a cardiac arrest.

If it was not for the Konnekt videophone assisting me to visualise my Mum, I am pretty certain my Mum would have died....

KONNEKT VIDEOPHONE

STAY CONNECTED, STAY SAFE

Are you looking for an accessible phone for your family member or client?

STAY CONNECTED

Our videophone features intuitive user interface for the elderly who struggle with complex technology. It makes it easy to keep in touch with family and friends, no matter where they are in the world.

It enhances the quality of life and mental well-being of older people by ensuring regular face-to-face interactions.

Social isolation is bad for your mental health, and regular face-to-face social interactions are likely a great way to help prevent depression.
